

HIGH SCHOOL INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY

ASU Project Humanities, a university-wide initiative that brings together diverse communities to engage in “talking, listening, and connecting,” is seeking talented and responsible high school students to participate in various aspects of our activities, events, and research.

Research Intern (Responsibilities)

- Grants/funding research
- Article/data mining
- “Humanity 101” materials
- Humanities programming @ high schools
- Volunteering at Project Humanities sponsored events & creating some of your own

Social Media Intern (Responsibilities)

- Compiling content for potential postings (images, articles, videos, etc.)
- Ambassadors (engagement/conversation specialists)
- Student contests (to be coordinated with the Project Humanities student group, asuphs’i)
- Sharing campaigns for Project Humanities events and activities
- Volunteering at Project Humanities sponsored events & creating some of your own

Writing Intern (Responsibilities)

- Project Humanities event reviews
- Project Humanities event descriptions and advertising
- Book/music/film reviews for "High School Humanities Hot Topics Corner" of the website
- Supplemental writing tasks as appropriate
- Volunteering at Project Humanities sponsored events & creating some of your own

Benefits to Student:

- Professional development experience
- Networking with University communities
- University preparation
- Volunteer hours
- Resume-building experience
- Published writing
- Letters of recommendation
- Project Humanities Certificate of Appreciation upon completion
- Project Humanities collateral (t-shirts, buttons, bags, etc.)

Application Requirements:

- One-page cover-letter expressing interest in the program
- One-page resume listing relevant experiences, achievements, club/sport/volunteer participations, etc.
- Semester-long commitment (5-10 hours per week)
- Limited travel; we ask that interns participate in at least 3 campus events
- Open to Juniors & Seniors (or Sophomores with strong teacher recommendation)

At the close of the semester, Project Humanities will provide each participating high school student with a comprehensive report outlining and assessing student participation and achievements.

Interested persons should email application materials to projecthumanities@asu.edu. Please contact us if you have any comments, questions, or concerns about the internship.

humanities.asu.edu

projecthumanities@asu.edu

facebook.com/projecthumanities

@ASU_Humanities on Twitter

(480)727-7030