Homeless Outreach Updates

Clothing Donation Collections Temporarily Paused

Due to our limited capacity to distribute clothing donations for our ongoing homeless outreach, we are temporarily not accepting clothing donations at this time beyond new men’s and women’s underwear. However, we do have other ways for you to support this community effort.

Announcing our "10 Years of TLC" Donation Challenges

2021 means that ASU Project Humanities is celebrating 10 years of talking ... listening ... connecting.

As one aspect of our anniversary activities, Project Humanities is facilitating a series of monthly 101 challenges modeled after our Humanity 101 principles—compassion, empathy, kindness, respect, integrity, forgiveness, and self-reflection. Each month, we challenge our supporters to raise 101 high-demand items that we can easily distribute to our 150-200 unsheltered clients in downtown Phoenix. Last month, we exceeded our goal and gathered 200+ cases of water total and $870 in donations for this cause.

For April’s challenge, we ask for disposable face masks and travel-size hand sanitizer. Email projecthumanities@asu.edu for drop-off times/locations.

Stay tuned for more 10th-year anniversary challenges leading up to our 10 Years of TLC Celebration in mid-November.

---

Event Alert

Religion and Rape Culture

Wednesday, April 7, 2021

Rape Culture is so pervasive globally that there are few communities it does not touch. Faith communities are no different. In this program, we explore the ways in which theology, faith traditions, and religious communities complicate “rape culture”, survivor experiences, and...

Event Alert

Indie Lens Pop-Up: Philly D.A.

Wednesday, April 28, 2021

Film Discussion

In 2017, Philadelphia had one of the highest incarceration rates of any major city in the United States. When civil rights attorney Larry Krasner became District Attorney he pledged to end mass incarceration by changing the culture of the criminal justice system from within, Philly... the lack of abuser accountability. Register at the link below to participate in this timely and important discussion.

Join this panel discussion facilitated by Project Humanities’ very own Rachel Sondgeroth along with topic experts Dr. Rabbi Shmuly Yanklowitz, President & Dean of Valley Beit Midrash, Alexus Rhone, founder of Truth Meet Story, Navila Rashid, Outreach and Community Engagement Manager of HEART, and Viva Garrison, Co-founder and President of the ASU Pagan Student Alliance.

Join this discussion facilitated by Cassia Spohn, PhD of ASU’s School of Criminology and Criminal Justice along with topic experts Khalil Rushdan of ACLU Arizona, Hope DeLap, JD of the Arizona Justice Project, Kevin Robinson of ASU’s School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, and Wendy White, JD of the Southwest Center for Equal Justice.

We encourage watching Episode 1 prior to the discussion. Episode 1 (60 min) will premier April 20 on PBS at https://www.pbs.org/independentlens/films/philly-da/

Event Reviews: Signature Lecture with Nora McInerny

Missed our event with Nora McInerny? Check out our University Service-Learning intern Emma’s review and other media coverage of “Toxic Positivity: The Good, Bad, and The Made Pretty,” with author, memoirist, and podcast host Nora McInerny.

Watch the full recording at: https://tinyurl.com/2021NoraRecording

Kudos to Our Student Interns

Our ambitious and successful programming this year had wonderful and substantive support of our Spring 2021 high school and undergraduate interns. Read about these talented students in this staff feature below.

Join the Movement

Sign the Humanity 101 pledge

TINYURL.COM/HUMANITY101PLEDGE

https://projecthumanities.asu.edu/